FAVORITE PART OF THE PLANNING PROCESS:

Having my mother help me accomplish it all!

LOVE STORY:

We met at a retreat before our freshman year of undergrad. I came home after meeting Corey and told my mother I was going to marry him. We dated. We broke up. I moved to LA. He moved to Pittsburg. I moved back to Lexington and he moved to Louisville. After being apart for six years, I received anonymous flowers on my doorstep and a journal explaining that he wanted to spend the rest of his life with me. Less than a year later we made it down the aisle together. I can confidently say because we know what it is like to be apart, life is so much better together.

IMPORTANT ELEMENTS:

It was important to us that we be able to tell a bit of our own love story at our wedding so we wrote our own vows. I read mine from a journal that Corey had given me 7 years prior.

ADVICE:

Keep your engagement short! You can plan a wedding quickly. Seek savvy vendors who know what they're doing.
